Robert Manning In-House Counsel

"Virtuoso Legal have done some tremendous work for us over the years. They handled a case of trademark infringement on our behalf in 2017 and we were handed unprecedented damages. Crucially, our web traffic increased by 50 per cent after infringing domains were removed, making a very positive difference to our business growth.

Both Liz Ward and Kirsten Toft are so involved in our business, and know so much about us, it's as though we are all the most trusted of friends. I thoroughly recommend the services of Virtuoso Legal, especially to organisations doing much of their work digitally, needing serious protection of their valuable IP in an expanding and fast-changing environment."

Kim Tidy

Owner

“I have always found Liz Ward and the team at Virtuoso Legal to be extremely efficient, very helpful and a pleasure to deal with. I’ve been working with them for four years now, since my business was established, and would thoroughly recommend them to anyone looking to protect and nurture their intellectual property.”

Lloyd Pearce
Founder and CTO

“Trio Healthcare has worked with Virtuoso Legal since our start-up days in 2013, when they were introduced to us as a ‘law firm that would help us grow’.

The team at Virtuoso Legal is absolutely brilliant and efficient. They have held our hand, many times leading the way, always being proactive, guiding us to what we need to do in the area of trade marks and brand protection. They are very quick to respond too.

They are such an important element of our business that we think of the team as part of our internal business, even though they are located externally. Our Trio® products are now available in 22 countries and it’s fair to say that we could not have done this without the IP services of Virtuoso Legal.”

Antony Thompson
CEO

“I have experienced a very high quality service from Liz and the team, although, I have been primarily working with Kirsten, who has been great.

The teams at Virtuoso Legal are diligent and helpful in understanding and navigating what is otherwise a complex environment to work in. I believe they have been very fair on price and I would recommend them to my friends.”

Sandra Bootle
General Manager, Naurex UK

“I have often felt that we get short shrift from many legal firms who are free to charge inflated hourly rates with no guarantee of success or satisfaction.

It is completely refreshing therefore to find a forward-thinking company fully attuned to today's customer expectations and which truly excels in client relationships.

In this way, working with Virtuoso legal to achieve success becomes a rewarding and satisfactory experience.”

NOCN

Graham Hasting-Evans Managing Director

“Virtuoso has advised NOCN Group on all its Intellectual Property matters including protection of the brand portfolio, licensing advice and international registrations.

Vice-Principal Kirsten Toft has offered invaluable IP advice and strategy to NOCN Group. She has acted for NOCN Group in relation to complex trade mark invalidity proceedings, negotiated and reached a beneficial settlement.

She continues to advise us on all things IP including in relation to brand acquisitions and managing and protecting our ever-increasing international trade mark portfolio. Kirsten has provided us with excellent commercial advice and supports NOCN Group in a professional and responsive way. I fully recommend Virtuoso Legal.”

Yarl Christie
Managing Director

“I have used Liz Ward Virtuoso to defend two separate IP cases against two of the largest flooring companies in the world.

On both occasions she and her team have been great and we have managed to achieved the outcomes we wanted. If it wasn't for Liz Ward and her team defending myself and my companies I would not be in business today.

Thank you again Liz and Virtuoso.”

“We have an enduring relationship with Kirsten Toft from Virtuoso Legal, who we know will always give us excellent advice on all matters that are related to IP.

We are given expert advice quickly, in a succinct format that provides clarity. Our ethos is totally client focussed and Virtuoso Legal has the same values, which make us highly compatible.

It’s really helpful that we have a world-class partner who also happens to be based in the great city of Leeds.”
